1.2 Comments on the state of financial allocation and expenditure

As most of the Receiving UN Organizations used the rainy season for the preparatory works so as to start the actual implementation during the dry season, there was no significant financial expenditure during the period. Insecurity in Jonglei State was the other factor that delayed implementation of the projects in the area.

PART 2 – RESULTS PROGRESS

2.1 Assessment of the current implementation status and results of the Peacebuilding Priority Plan

PPP Outcomes	Outcome indicator	Indicator baseline (B), target (T), progress (P)	Progress score <sup>1</sup>	Key results	Reasons for low achievement and rectifying measures
PPP overall outcome: Improved economic and employment opportunities for young people and access to water resources for both human and livestock consumption	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Number of violent incidents in target communities</li> <li>• Infection rate for water born diseases</li> <li>• # of youth and women with access to economic opportunities and income generation</li> </ul>		2	All the projects are under preparation stage to start the actual implementation. Procurement is the main activity that has been carried out so far and the actual implementation is planned for the next dry season.	Implementation has been delayed mainly due to the long rainy season, which limited accessibility of the project sites. To overcome the challenge preparatory works, including procurement of consultants, were carried out during the rainy season so as to save enough time for the actual implementation during the dry season.

2.2 Assessment of PPP efficiency, coherence, risk, catalytic effects, value for money and PBF/PBC synergy

Coherence/ coordination: Did the PPP contribute to better coherence and coordination of UN and/or Development Partner support in peacebuilding in the country? How?	Yes, enhanced dialogue with civil society organizations and establishment of the joint steering committee comprising of stakeholders and key players in the peace building process is enabling coordination and coherence among the different interventions as well as their alignment with the PPP.
Funding gaps: Did the PPP fill critical funding gaps in peacebuilding in the country? In which area?	Yes, the key drivers of conflict in South Sudan include competition over scarce resources, lack of economically productive activities for youth as well as lack of government capacity to mediate between communities and regulate access to resources. The PPP is designed to address the funding gaps in most underserved, remote and conflict prone areas of South Sudan addressing the above mentioned key drivers of conflict through improved economic and employment opportunities for young people and access to water resources for both human and livestock consumption.

Value for money : Did the PPP provide value for money, that is, is the level of outcomes proportionate to the level of investment? What is the evidence?	It is too early to see the results as most of the projects are under the preparatory stage. However, the proposals demonstrated value for money in the management and implementation arrangements by introducing strategies that enable use of existing and local resources.
Catalytic effects : Did the PPP achieve any catalytic effects, either through attracting additional funding commitments or creating immediate conditions to unblock/ accelerate peace relevant processes? How?	N/A
Risk taking/ innovation : Did the PPP support any innovative or risky activities to achieve peacebuilding results? What were they and what was the result?	N/A
PBF/PBC synergy : How did the PPP promote the synergy between PBF support and PBC engagement? Did the PPP support the PBC to achieve its commitments in the country?	N/A
