BACKGROUND*1. Humanitarian context analysis

According to HNO 2017 over 1.1 million people are internally displaced, predominantly in urban centres such as Mogadishu, which hosts more than 400,000 displaced alone. The majority of those affected are women and children. Protection risks are increasing and the need to centralize protection throughout response activities to the most vulnerable is vital. The FSNAU/FEWSNET results reveal a drastic increase in the number of people experiencing "crisis" and "emergency" levels of food insecurity from 1.1 million in the previous six months, to a projected 2.9 million between February and June 2017.

Lower Shebelle and in particular Afgoye district is inhabited by an agro pastoralist community who are usually hard hit with the onset and prolonged droughts, protracted crisis and the continuous influx of IDPs along the Afgoye corridor for more than two years has overwhelmed the little response received from humanitarian agencies. The ongoing drought has provoked an increased movement along the Afgoye corridor with increasing movement since November 2016. Many of these children, living in both camps and host communities have been distressed by sudden and consequently prolonged displacement and are in need of psychosocial support and access to specialized services. Protection needs have increased with prolonged displacement and are likely to increase drastically with sudden new displacement due to the prolonged drought.

Funding for IDPs since August 2015 have reduced significantly leaving many gaps in and out of camps in Lower Shebelle populations, existing gaps are likely to create more urgent needs in the happening of an additional emergency and massive displacement of population. In order to ensure activities are based on needs and are adaptable to the changing environment, a child protection rapid assessments will be conducted on the ground and it will feed onto the project activities in order to select the most appropriate items, locations and activities for the needs of the IDPs in Afgoye.

Displaced children are particularly vulnerable and violations of child rights are a major concern in situations of new displacement. Family separations, GBV against children, forced recruitment and abductions are among the main violations against children. In 2014, a total of 1,759 grave child rights violations were recorded. With 1,738 recorded violations between January and August 2015, there is a notable and concerning increase in the most serious child rights violations in 2015, including abductions (643) and forced recruitment (547). Family separations are steeply on the rise - from January to July 2015, a total of 4,520 children were identified and documented, which is a significant increase from the 681 children in the same time-frame in 2014. A further increase in child rights violations is projected due to the ongoing military offensive and the continuing forced evictions.

Overall, the protective environment needs to be significantly strengthened in order to contribute to conditions more conducive to free and voluntary return, local integration or settlement elsewhere in Somalia.

2. Needs assessment

This project will target newly IDPs who have fled their area of origin due to the current ongoing drought which will create an additional influx of displacement along the Afgoye corridor through ex-control to Kaxda district. IDPs always face host of security challenges and human rights violations during displacement, including illegal arrest and detainment at checkpoints limiting their access to humanitarian aid. Women are often unable to move freely as they are exposed to heightened protection risks. Young girls are particularly vulnerable to harassment, exploitation and abuse. Furthermore, due to security concerns, men and boys are being detained for screening as some moved from Al-Shabaab controlled areas, leaving women and girls unaccompanied and vulnerable and at risk of child marriage, recruitment into armed groups and further protection issues. The need for protection monitoring, assistance to unaccompanied and separated children, and specialized child protection services and psychosocial services are urgent.

The lack of rule of law, pervasive protection violations, including forced evictions, gender-based violence and exploitation, remain widespread and continue to affect the most vulnerable groups, especially women and girls, people with disabilities, the elderly and minority groups.

The project will provide quality, specialized services to extremely vulnerable children affected by drought, displacement and other violations they might have experienced, through emergency mobile teams for first-line response. Psychosocial support (PSS), Psychological First Aid (PFA), case management, IDTR for UASC and MRM screening are very limited, hence WOCCA and NoFYL aims to increase significantly the provision of lifesaving services. PSS will aim to improve the psychological wellbeing of children and adolescents suffering from trauma, so that they are able to interact and function normally and are not at risk to other forms of violence.

Capacity of national NGOs, service providers and duty-bearers to provide targeted, specialized CP services and protection assistance in Lower Shebelle need to be built, in order to respond to the protection needs of affected children and adolescents. Capacity building will also help to mainstream accountability throughout organizational programming and service provision and to promote improved security risk management, given that selected locations are insecure.

3. Description Of Beneficiaries

WOCCA with the support of NoFYL will target 11,380 beneficiaries (1380 Direct beneficiaries and 10,000 indirect beneficiaries). Children meeting the following vulnerability criteria will be targeted: unaccompanied and separated children; children showing signs of severe trauma; children requiring immediate, lifesaving services, children who have survived grave violations (sexual violence, child recruitment, abduction or maiming); disabled children; children with abusive, neglectful or exploitative parents/caregivers; child survivors of GBV (physical, sexual and psychological); children released from detention centre's; and children who have been tortured. These children are extremely vulnerable, since without immediate intervention and support, they may be at risk exploitation and abuse that endangers their life and long-term wellbeing. They will be identified through: Rapid Protection Assessments (RPAs); MRM screening; referral from other service providers; CP information, education and communication activities; and community-based referral.

The project will target the community members and the IDP settlements in Lower shabelle Districts. The Child protection /protection response activities will target and support UASC and as well GBV survivors who are identified or come forward and their families. It will also target the host community and the IDP members through awareness raising to create knowledge and dialogue on the CP services available as well as GBV services to ensure strong coordination and improve referral at community level. This also includes training of other service providers to strengthen coordination, information sharing as well as ensuring the safe and ethical referral of cases and ensuring the DO NO HARM principle is applied.

4. Grant Request Justification

WOCCA'S core projects are protection-related, aimed at ensuring the protection of mainly women and children. Over 8 years WOCCA has been implementing GBV prevention and response projects. This includes providing a timely and effective response to CP cases including direct provision of case management, psycho-social support, and referral to medical care. The proposed project directly contributes to the cluster objective:

- Scaling up of Child Protection and GBV services in areas of displacement. With a focus on emergency services and early recovery to enable local integration.
- To create awareness on GBV and Increase access to Child protection services and GBV services
- As well as building capacity to strengthen coordination and timely and safe referrals
- WOCCA will also print and disseminate IEC materials on the agreed CP messages by the CP working group
- Furthermore, WOCCA will provide material assistance in a sensitive way to complement existing coping mechanisms and support recovery and reduce vulnerability of those most at risk.

5. Complementarity

This project will complement the ongoing GBV prevention and response project in Kaxda and Dayniile (Banadir). This includes providing a timely and effective response to GBV survivors including direct provision of case management, psychosocial support, and referral to medical care.

Coordination with other Organizations in project area

Name of the organization	Areas/activities of collaboration and rationale

Environment Marker Of The Project

A: Neutral Impact on environment with No mitigation

Gender Marker Of The Project

2a- The project is designed to contribute significantly to gender equality

Justify Chosen Gender Marker Code

The project supports gender as a cross cutting theme and the activities are targeting both genders. Certain activities will have a specific approach to each target group. women and girls who are vulnerable to violence will be provided with psycho-social support and referral to medical services, however there are cases of boys who are violated and they will also receive the appropriate treatment they need. The project will target the community at large on equal basis for community training and life saving information.

Protection Mainstreaming

Women and girls will participate through out the project duration. WOCCA will adopt a participatory approach during the community outreach by involving men and women, boys and girl. ### Country Specific Information

Safety and Security

There are no specific security risks beyond the usual in Somalia, WOCCA with the support of NoFYL engaged with both authorities (formal and informal) and other stakeholders and will be required to provide adequate security when is needed. the WOCCA and NoFYL staff are members of the local community and threats to their lives are very minimal. WOCCA assumes that the security situation in the area remains stable or improves so that the project can be executed according to plan. Other risks are gatekeepers at the camp and if these will intervene with service provision, CP/GBV cases referred by NoFYL, WOCCA will provide transport to beneficiaries in order to continue the services if need be or other ways depending on the situation. When engaging with survivors WOCCA will keep a low profile in order to minimize exposure of the survivors.

Access

WOCCA has been working in somalia over 20 years. Normally each new project will be discussed with the authorities and permission will be sought. From there will be engagement with the village. representatives in order to ensure smooth implementation. During the period wocca has been working in the area, there have never been cases of blocking of projects by the government of Somalia and this is also not expected to happen this time

NoFYL is also a local NGO who has presence in Banadir and Lower Shebelle Regions and is also the co-chairs of the GBV working group in Mogadishu and has a good relation with the community they work with and the local authority. NoFYL will also use the GBVWG group as a platform to improve on the coordination by information gathering and training of the service providers to ensure safe and timely referral of CP and GBV cases.
