MONITORING AND EVALUATION (to be completed by organization) The project log frame and the work plan will be used in monitoring and evaluating of the project activities. Measurable indicators will be used to monitor project activities. Wocca will utilize various qualitative and quantitative methods to measure these indicators and these will be through project reports, vouchers returned and signed by the money vendor and beneficiary lists. The outcomes will be measured through photographs for the activities conducted. The principle outcomes are: 1. number of beneficiaries selected and 2. number of hh beneficiaries that received a montly income. (A) Describe how you will monitor, evaluate and report on your project activities and achievements, including the frequency of monitoring, methodology (site visits, observations, remote monitoring external evaluation, etc.), and This will be done with the help of beneficiary lists, vouchers and copies of vouchers that remain in the books and are verified by the money vendor. This will happen every time money is transfered, so each month. Senior field coordinator is also the main monitor and he will also visit community elders to identify target beneficiaries and discuss monitoring tools (reports, statistics, photographs, etc.). Als describe how findings will be project work plan. The senior field coordinator will also visit sites on a regularly basis. Gender as a cross cutting issue will also be considered throughout the project implementation. WOCCA will measure the project outcome by ascertaining the number of people in the target communities who have benefitted from the project. No extra income can be seen as a baseline as compared to the extra income given by the cash distribution. WOCCA will ensure that the reporting requirements are respected and will used to adapt the project implementation strategy.
