If yes, please indicate how many times the Project Steering Committee has met over the last 6 months? Please limit your response to 350 words. The Project Steering Committee (PSC) met once during the reporting period. Over 19-20 March, the PSC met at Director-General level, considering and endorsing seven broad areas of programme adjustment. The PSC also agreed to apply to the Peacebuilding Fund (PBF) for a six month no-cost extension for the Programme. The next PSC meeting is expected to take place in July 2023.

Please provide a brief description of any engagement that the project has had with the government over the last 6 months. Please indicate what level of government the project has been engaging with.
Please limit your response to 350 words.

The project had in-person engagements with all FGS and FMS Ministers and Director Generals implementation and state-specific situational developments and priorities. The project engages in monthly coordination sessions with all FGS and FMS WPP Coordinators. Dialogue with the Ministries of Justice, Interior, and Internal Security is ongoing on issues of legal review, women's protection, and gender-responsive reconciliation and stabilization processes.

M&E missions to Jubaland, Puntland, Galmudug, and Hirshabelle were undertaken to engage with the ministerial M&E focal points, focusing on:

- Engagement of traditional elders to bring about positive mind shifts towards women's rights.
- The establishment of 17 women's networks in 17 districts for safe spaces for women to convene, identify peace and security issues that affect them, and strategize on ways in which they can engage district and FMS level stakeholders to resolve these issues.
- Insecurity in some of the FMS which had initially compromised access and outreach to some communities but has since improved.

The programme engaged with the Upper House and the House of the People:

- The programme worked closely with the Office of the Speakers within both Houses to establish the two Caucuses and engaged their newly elected leadership to identify priorities for the programme's support.
- A partner agreement was signed with the Upper House, and a partner agreement is under finalisation with the HotP to facilitate the capacity building of female parliamentarians, the establishment of the Women's Parliamentary Caucuses, and the study missions on gender responsive budgeting.

The programme also engaged with senior women MPs through the recently created 'Somalia Women Members of Parliament/UN Leadership Forum', which brings together the UN in Somalia and senior women MPs to discuss strategic issues.

- Ministries of Women at FGS and FMS level. Implementation of activities are ongoing and largely on-track for completion by the end of 2023.
- Implementing partner for the media component, who is expected to finalize their work by end July 2023.
- Third Party Monitors to undertake perception studies in Q4 2023, to provide an update on the baselines established in 2022.
- Two Civil Society Organizations will support the implementation of advocacy campaigns for women's organisations and human rights defenders; training for 10 CSOs in FGS and each FMS on early warning monitoring of WPS violations; facilitation of dialogues between CSOs; and the implementation and monitoring mechanisms to coordinate relevant CSOs engagement.
- Two consulting firms are supporting the mapping of women peace actors and the training of the members of the women's networks on transformative leadership, reconciliation and mediation.
- The Upper House and House of the People (agreement being finalised) for implementation of the parliamentary activities.

The process of recruiting and onboarding three consulting firms is expected to be completed in Q3 2023. These firms will support:

- o The mapping and documentation of local initiatives in support of women's representation at the community levels and local governance councils.
- o The documentation of progress and good practices on women, peace and security in Somalia and capacity development of relevant women organizations on monitoring and data collection.
- o The development of an early warning system and guidance documents (SOPs) on WPS reporting focusing on CRSV.

This is not anecdotal evidence or a list of individual outputs, but a description of progress made toward the main purpose of the project where evidence of contribution to outcomes is available if requested

FOR PROJECTS WITHIN SIX MONTHS OF COMPLETION ONLY (550 word limit)

Development and launch of national and subnational action plans on UNSCR 1325, which will create an enabling environment for women's inclusion in the cycle of governance and peace and security processes, and serving as a catalyst to mobilise support and facilitate coordination of implementation of the women, peace and security agenda in Somalia.

Engagement of over 500 change agents who are now engaged in community advocacy and outreach activities for GBV prevention, promoting service seeking behaviour, addressing issues of stigma and accountability, which in the long term is expected to contribute towards reduced incidences of GBV at the community level, and to increase access of survivors to GBV services.

Equipping of influencers, champions, and advocates with key messages and tools to combat misconceptions and promote women's leadership and participation in public life, including developing positive messages and resource materials to on women's leadership and participation in public and civic life. This is expected to contribute towards the normalisation of women as leaders in governance, peace and security processes, thereby creating an enabling environment for women to pursue and successfully assume positions of leadership in political spaces, and in formal and informal institutions with a peace and security mandate.

Establishment of 17 women's peace networks that meet quarterly to engage with justice and security actors, district administrations, and other key stakeholders to raise their issues and concerns, seek solutions on protection and peace related concerns, and plan collective actions.

Establishment of the Women's Caucus in the Upper House and House of the People which will serve as platforms for women MPs to convene, articulate their collective GEWE specific priorities, and strategise on avenues to create an enabling policy environment for the protection and promotion of the rights of women and girls in Somalia. The programme has also supported the establishment of Interim Steering Committee for the Somalia Chapter of the African Women Leaders Network, which serve as a national, regional and international platform for women leaders to strategise on unique and innovative approaches to address existing and emerging political, peace and security issues.

Enhanced coordination and capacity among state and civil society protection actors at FGS and FMS level on GBV prevention and response, including on CRSV, which will contribute towards improved management of GBV cases, and reduced incidents of GBV within the country.

Creation of an evidence base on the representation and participation of women in political processes and peace infrastructures, which will inform the design, implementation and monitoring of gender responsive policy and programmatic initiatives for the promotion of peace and stabilization in Somalia.

PART II: RESULT PROGRESS BY PROJECT OUTCOME

Describe overall progress under each Outcome made during the reporting period (for June reports: January-June; for November reports: January-November; for final reports: full project duration). Do not list individual activities. If the project is starting to make/has made a difference at the outcome level, provide specific evidence for the progress (quantitative and qualitative) and explain how it impacts the broader political and peacebuilding context.

- "On track" refers to the timely completion of outputs as indicated in the workplan.
- "On track with peacebuilding results" refers to higher-level changes in the conflict or peace factors that the project is meant to contribute to. These effects are more likely in mature projects than in newer ones.

The Women's Parliamentary Caucus has been established at the Federal level, with office bearers for both Parliamentary houses elected. This establishment, and planned provision of technical support to implement workplans aligned to the priorities identified by their members, is expected to enable the women MPs to increase their meaningful participation in legislative and peace infrastructures and enhance women's representation at the highest political level.

A new mechanism to promote and protect women's rights was established through the launch of an Interim Steering Committee for the Somalia Chapter of the African Women Leaders Network (AWLN). FMS level chapters of AWLN are also planned. This network will provide a support structure for women to attain meaningful participation in decision-making and leverage the learning from the other 32 national chapters of the AWLN.

Women's community networks were established to provide a forum for women to raise their issues and concerns, seek solutions on protection and peace related concerns, and plan collective actions through the quarterly meetings with duty bearers. There was significant progress in integrating them into the traditional peace infrastructure, with increasing joint action with traditional elders, engagement with existing ADR mechanisms and other community peace structures.

A mapping of women leaders, forums, and networks was completed, providing an evidence base on women peace actors across Somalia, identifying challenges that they continue to face, and providing recommendations to build women's meaningful leadership and participation in peace processes. These networks will be linked to the wider peace infrastructure in Somalia for greater impact.

The National Action Plan's operationalisation has brought onboard line ministries to lead the relevant pillars, thereby increasing their engagement with the WPS agenda, whilst CSOs have been engaged in dialogue to better understand their contribution to implementation, monitoring and reporting through a separate civil society pillar. In Jubaland, the Local Action Plan was launched, and the state legislatures are being encouraged to develop LAP workplans to enhance their engagement with the WPS agenda. The process of consultations to review existing legal frameworks from a gender perspective have also commenced, paving the way for advocacy on legal reform processes.

Indicate any additional analysis on how Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment and/or Youth Inclusion and Responsiveness has been ensured under this Outcome

70% of Somalia's population is considered youth (< age of 30). The youth in Somalia disproportionately suffer the impacts of insecurity, including vulnerability to radicalization and recruitment into violent extremist and terrorist groups (al-Shabaab), and forced irregular migration due to climatic shocks (drought and flooding) and violence and conflict in their communities. It is therefore critical for both state and non-state stakeholders to identify and sustainably dismantle the systemic barriers and challenges that young women face in efforts to meaningfully lead and participate in governance, peace, security and development processes in Somalia. In line with the programme has facilitated youth participation in political, peace and security processes by:

1. Advocating for youth inclusion and participation in the 17 women's networks (I.e. in South-West State, the women's networks include roughly 50% youth members, and other states have over one-third youth members).
2. The Somalia Chapter of the African Women Leaders will have a Youth Caucus that will ensure the inclusion of young Somali women in the Somalia Chapter of AWLN, and the integration of the youth, peace and security agenda in line with UNSCR 2250 in the mandate and functions of the Somalia Chapter of AWLN.

Outcome 2: An enabling environment for women's participation in peacebuilding efforts at all levels is created through strengthened protection and prevention mechanisms and structures at FGS, FMS and community levels and through addressing negative social norms.

The establishment and operationalization of two One-Stop Centres in Baidoa and Dhusamareb are providing delivery of medical and psycho-social services to local communities, referral systems, and data on SGBV to inform policy and programmatic interventions. The centres have also engaged surrounding IDP and host communities on GBV prevention, stigma reduction and improved service seeking behaviours, as well as legal accountability and access to justice for survivors, which is expected to enhance the communities' knowledge of the services available and improved understanding of the impact of SGBV and how it can be mitigated. An additional site in Kismayo has been identified for a further one-Stop centre and is expected to expand availability of medical and psycho-social support for SGBV survivors in the region.

Parliamentary committees with a human rights, social affairs, and gender mandate in the FMS have been sensitized to understand their roles in the implementing the WPS agenda, and the Local Action Plan in particular, with a focus on identifying how to align their respective priorities. The parliamentarians have also engaged in dialogue with community members, civil society, university students, and media to shape their legislative narratives. Momentum for legal protection has grown with legal and women's rights experts convening across the FGS and three FMS to review prevailing legal frameworks and identify key protection concerns, which have coalesced around legislation to prevent and address FGM and GBV.

The media in Somalia has been engaged to contribute to positively shaping discourse on women's protection and prevention. Key messages and a resource handbook for journalists and media practitioners have been developed through monitoring and analysis of media content and in consultation with key community influencers. Use of these resources is expected to enable a unified gender-responsive approach to media content that emphasises a greater role for women in peace processes. Training will also be provided to media practitioners who can then amplify messages in their reporting and generate powerful stories to promote women's participation and protection. Religious leaders have also been engaged to promote messages from Islamic teachings which bolster women's participation in public life and protection from violence.

Indicate any additional analysis on how Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment and/or Youth Inclusion and Responsiveness has been ensured under this Outcome

The next step in the media component requires that a network of young media practitioners, 50% of whom will be women, will be established and trained to introduce key messaging on the WPS agenda and to challenge negative practices which deter women's empowerment and women's protection in Somalia. There has also been a concerted effort to include youth associations in various activities, including the parliamentary dialogues and engagements at the FMS level given the importance of linking the youth, peace and security and the women, peace and security agendas.

INDICATOR BASED PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT

Using the Project Results Framework as per the approved project document or any amendments- provide an update on the achievement of key indicators at the outcome level in the table below

- If an outcome has more than 3 indicators , select the 3 most relevant ones with most relevant progress to highlight.
- Where it has not been possible to collect data on indicators, state this and provide any explanation. Provide gender and age disaggregated data. (300 characters max per entry)

SGBV Task Force AGO FGS established in 2019; Puntland Rape Act approved in 2016, Puntland FGM Bill approved by the Cabinet in 2021, and Jubaland Sexual Offences Bill	#Legal commentary note developed on proceedings of workshops (at FGS & FMS level) and shared with cabinet and Parliamentary committees for review and bill reintroduced	Revisions and finalization of draft bill; legal commentary/note prepared; Cabinet & Standing committee/Parliamentary bodies review; parliamentary debate on bill for readings	MoWHRD FGS has developed a list of priority legislation, including the SOB and FGM Bill, and a roadmap for their enactment. This is also reflected in the 2023 workplan of the Human Rights Committee of the House of People. The two drafts are currently with religious scholars for review before the wider consultative process commences. The Galmudug Ministry of Women has completed a draft FGM Bill.	Following backlash and misinformation of the SOB in November and December of 2022 the MoWHRD has taken a more cautious approach to adequately consult and bring on board the religious leaders and wider public, and address misconceptions and misinformation, as well as identification of key political champions and advocates. The SOB text is currently with religious leaders and is expected to be returned in the month of June.
2.2	% Budget allocated to relevant FGS and FMS institutions, including MOWHRD, other justice-sector institutions to address conflict-related sexual and gender-based violence	To be determined	Target to be established	Milestone to be established	No data	No data has yet been collected on FGS/FMS budget to inform baseline or progress

2.3	Perceptions concerning the enabling environment for women's participation in peace processes at national and local level (disaggregated by sex, age and target group)	Qualitative baseline - majority of interviewees were positive toward women's role in peace processes. However, findings highlighted conservative traditions and elders that perceive women's inclusion negatively.	Increased perceptions concerning the enabling environment for women's participation in peace processes at national and local level	Stakeholder and expert roundtable consultation series, including religious leaders, to support the Government in identifying and clarifying legislative reform priorities to support harmonization of formal and informal laws related to WPS- in-depth discussion of at least two national draft bills. Also undertake perception survey.	Qualitative findings on perceptions of women in peace processes established through interviews and survey of key peacebuilding stakeholders in November 2022.	To be repeated in November 2023, to ascertain changes over the course of the project interventions in target locations.

Human Impact

This section is about the human impact of the project. Please state the number of key stakeholders (including but not limited to: Civil Society Organizations, Beneficiaries, etc.) of the project, and for each, please briefly describe:

- The challenges/problem they faced prior to the project implementation
- The impact of the project in their lives
- Provide, where possible, a quote or testimonial from a representative of each stakeholder group

This is an optional question. You may leave it unanswered if not relevant

Human Impact	Key Stakeholder	What were the challenges they faced prior to project implementation? (350 words)	What has been the impact of the project on their lives? (350 words)	Provide, where possible, a quote or testimonial from a representative of each stakeholder group (350 words)
1	Ministry of Women and Human Rights Development	Lack of dedicated resources and capacities for the implementation of the women, peace and security agenda in Somalia.	The establishment of government managed One-Stop SGBV Centres has enhanced the Ministries ability to contribute to GBV service provision, as well as better position them to coordinate protection issues, improve referral pathways, and build a central evidence base on GBV in their respective States.	"The President applauded this Centre as critical to government's response to GBV in the state" (Minister Fahima, South-West State)

2	Traditional elders and religious leaders	Traditional leadership has largely been exclusionary of women, and women's participation and leadership in conflict resolution and peacebuilding processes. Traditional elders have also enforced customary laws that are contrary to human rights, including marrying victims to their rapists, and some religious leaders have not promoted religious messaging and interpretations in favour of women's rights.	Greater understanding of the importance of women's participation in peacebuilding and commitment to its promotion; understanding of the GBV/CRSV and its consequences; engagement with women's groups on protection concerns; Access to religious-based messages and arguments to champion women's protection and participation; Allies in their community engagements and peacemaking efforts. There is a shift in religious and traditional leaders' attitudes toward women's participation in peacebuilding, as well as knowledge and skills particularly on denouncing all forms of violence perpetrated against women and girls. Traditional and religious leaders are now encouraging the community and the government to give women the chance to lead and make decisions within the society, advocating for space for women in decision-making.	"The trainings have significantly improved my capacity to advocate for the rights of women in my locality, especially the dialogue and consensus building workshop on Islam and women rights. It has cleared doubts concerning women's leadership" (Traditional elder, Kismayo) The traditional elders spoke of how they have been using community social events and dispute resolution meetings to sensitize members of the community. The religious leaders spoke about the use of Friday sermons to denounce violence against women and their inclusion in public life. (Focus Group Discussion, Kismayo) "The role of religious leaders is to advocate for women and preach on the rights that Allah gave women, educate the community that women have the same rights as men, that their rights cannot be violated, and that those who do so will be held accountable under Islamic law" (Sheikh Ahmed, Mogadishu)
----------	---	---	--	--

3	Women peacebuilders and leaders	Lack of platform for collective action on WPS agenda as well as facilitated and regular engagement with duty bearers (justice and security actors and district administration in particular) at community level. Limited engagement with traditional peace infrastructure. No institutional mechanisms in the current parliamentary session for women MPs to have joint voice and action	Enhanced information sharing and strategizing for collective action around identified priorities; the interface with various duty bearers has increased their recognition and empowered them to proactively engage with duty bearers as part of the network and individually. They are also now engaging in joint actions with the traditional elders, as well as improved partnership and collaboration with the district level peace committees and other dispute resolution mechanisms, ensuring that women can positively influence peace building efforts beyond their usual domains. The establishment of the Women's Caucus in the Upper House and House of People will allow for collective agenda setting and influence on decision-making, as well as ensure consulted on key policy issues such as ongoing constitutional review as a bloc/interest group	"The members do more work beyond what people think. We have changed the lives of the families in our communities by providing counselling services, empowering women with information, advocacy, and referral, assisting victims of rape and domestic abuse, and undertaking awareness and advocacy to address social issues affecting women and girls". (Member of Women's Network, Kismayo) "The women's network have resolved a complicated conflict in the community that even we (the elders) and the police failed to solve" (Traditional Elder, Beletweyne)

Please limit your response to 350 words.

The UN is conducting detailed analysis and coordination to ensure maximum synergies between existing related programming, as well as support the expansion of proposed programming with an impact on women's participation and protection.

Under the newly funded UNDP Persons with Disabilities Programme, additional support will be provided to the WPP One-Stop Centres, with targeted resources to address the specific needs of disabled GBV survivors. New generation UN joint programmes such as the recently approved Joint Justice and Corrections Programme also address women's access to justice and supporting gender sensitive dispute resolution mechanisms. The Programme has also provided inputs into other new generation UN joint programmes on state-building and police, to ensure synergies and leveraging of lessons and issues emerging from this project.

Leveraging the Women's Caucus established under the WPP, the UN has launched the 'Somalia Women Members of Parliament/UN Leadership Forum', which aims to create political dialogue between the UN in Somalia and senior women Members of Parliament on strategic issues including collective influence for legislative priorities; technical assistance for women legislators; increased participation and influence in high level political fora, including the NCC, and the 30 percent quota.

Under the framework of the WPP JP, the FGS Ministry is also leading efforts with the donor community to establish the 'Friends of WPS' platform, to expand the resources and support for WPS related programmatic and policy interventions.

Sustainability

Does the project have an explicit exit strategy?

Please describe any steps that have been taken to ensure sustainability of peacebuilding gains beyond the duration of the project. *

Please limit your response to 350 words.

Sustainability is being sought through support to legal and policy frameworks, and their implementation and coordination mechanisms that focus on cross-government ownership. The project is taking an intentional approach to the structures it has established, such as the women's networks, supporting their individual and collective capacities; formalization and acknowledgement by state planning and decision-making entities; as well as greater integration and collaboration with traditional peacebuilding infrastructures. This is evidenced in the collaboration with ADR mechanisms and traditional elders more broadly. Other structures, such as the Women's Caucus, are being established within a clear institutional framework and working procedures, ensuring its sustainability beyond the project. The Project has also invested significantly in ongoing engagement with community influencers, specifically traditional elders and religious leaders, for ownership of the WPP agenda, who can leverage their existing roles and influence in the community to cascade advocacy and sensitization on women's participation in peacebuilding and protection to the wider community and initiate change. The media engagement work is being implemented through a Somali media network, which has the wide connections to media outlets and country wide journalist networks through which positive media messages and resources are being disseminated and be amplified. This also means that this agenda will be taken up beyond the duration of the project. The model of establishing government-managed One-Stop Centres, within existing medical facilities, also ensure the longer-term possibility that these centres will be absorbed into state budgets for health and social services.

Are there any other issues concerning project implementation that you want to share, including any capacity needs of the recipient organizations?
Please limit your response to 350 words.

Implementation has been uneven across the FMS in 2023. In Puntland, implementation was limited due to the preparations and political focus on universal elections, and the related insecurity close to the vote at the end of May. This affected travel to various districts and caused disruptions for the stakeholders involved in the project, including traditional elders, who were contributing to the peace resolution of the political tensions and the women network members who were occupied with lobbying for women’s meaningful participation in the elections. In Hirshabelle, flooding in a target district and the related humanitarian emergency affected implementation in Q2. A number of the target districts are affected by logistical challenges, affecting the continuity of community level outreach and operational costs.

Legislative progress on WPS-related bills at the federal level have been slow due to backlash at the end of 2022 by several stakeholders. As a result the Ministry has taken a more cautious approach in 2023 to learn the lessons from previous attempts at passing such legislation. Currently the SOB and FGM Bill are with religious leaders for review. The continued lack of visibility on the draft SOB text and the status of its review by religious leaders and civil society has hampered the ability to plan coordinated UN support to this legislative effort. Legislative progress at the FMS level has also stalled as states like Jubaland await progress at the FGS level.

Key challenges continued to be faced by the Ministries that affect, but cannot be addressed under the scope of, the programme. Complementary programming that was developed to address some of these institutional and capacity gaps is yet to commence due to lack of resourcing. However, there are now emerging entry points which can support areas of the programme that have been slow to find traction, including progress on the national judicial and legal review presenting a window of opportunity to engender these processes, as well as the appointment of the Special Envoy on Stabilization & Civil Protection, who represents a champion for addressing conflict related sexual violence at the highest levels.

Monitoring and Oversight Activities

Please describe any key event related to monitoring and oversight. Please click next if no activities have yet taken place.

Monitoring and oversight activities	Name of the Event	Summary	Key Findings
Event 1	3rd Project Steering Committee	The Project Steering Committee met in Q1 of 2023	The Programme requires some adjustments to the interventions to better respond to the changing context, and also requires a six month no cost extension due to the delays experienced in early 2022 and 2023.
Event 2	Monitoring Missions	Monitoring missions to the Federal Member States where conducted in Q1 and Q2 of 2023	Project implementation is largely on track, although delays have been faced, especially related to financial reporting and processing of payment requests to partners. While efforts have been made to build the capacity of partners under the project on financial reporting, and M&E, more practical approaches are required to facilitate the utilisation of theoretical knowledge in practice.
