How Funds are being used

The Health4Life Fund supports countries to catalyse action for a scaled up NCDs and mental health response for the purpose of:

- Mobilizing and maximizing the impact of domestic financing and resources.
- Developing and implementing effective policy, legislative and regulatory measures, including fiscal measures to reduce risk factors.
- Increasing access to essential health services and medicines, vaccines, diagnostics and health technologies as part of universal health coverage benefit packages.
- Promoting policy coherence and mutual accountability across government sectors of different spheres of policy making.
- Engaging relevant stakeholders, including civil society and the private sector, as appropriate to enhance population-wide responses.
- Strengthening the collection and use of data.

The Fund also supports innovation and/or implementation research across the areas above.

Catalyzing country-level investments on NCDs and mental health to achieve universal health coverage and the SDGs

The Fund provides the best opportunity to support a One-UN response to NCDs and mental health toward country-led action. I urge Member States and development partners to contribute.

Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus,
Director-General, WHO, UN General Assembly, September 2023

Health4Life Steering Committee

The following were represented on the Health4Life Fund Steering Committee in 2023: WHO (permanent co-chair), UNDP (rotating co-chair), UNICEF, governments of Kenya, Thailand and Uruguay, the UN Multi-Partner Trust Fund Office, NCD Alliance, and United for Global Mental Health.

The Steering Committee is guided by the Fund's Terms of Reference, Governance Arrangements, and Operations Guidance. All are available on the Health4Life website.

Resource mobilization is guided through a resource mobilization strategy and a roadmap. Guidance exists for the way that the Fund engages with non-State actors.

Uniting partners across government and society

because multisectoral action is required to tackle NCDs and promote mental health

Multi-partner trust funds provide a way of promoting coherence to deliver on common objectives ... for a more effective and efficient use of resources, better transparency and accountability, and an ability to see overlaps and avoid duplication.e solutions that are better adapted to those countries' health needs and priorities.

Jennifer Topping, Executive Coordinator in the Multi Partner Trust Fund Office, WHO Member State briefing on the Health4Life Fund, April 2023

The Health4Life Fund was established in 2021 to galvanize domestic financing and scale up country action for the prevention and control of NCDs and for improving mental health – areas of health and development that have been neglected over many years, and continue to remain poorly resourced, despite the impact of COVID-19 on NCDs and mental health conditions.

The Health4Life Fund supports governments, the United Nations development system and other partners to work together towards common NCD and mental health results, in a way that responds to the global, regional and country level commitments on NCDs and mental health. The Fund is based on established financing-for-development and aid & development effectiveness principles.

The Fund was established by the United Nations Development Programme, UNICEF and the World Health Organization – three members of the United Nations NCD Task Force and is administered by the UN Multi-Partner Trust Fund Office. The Task Force brings United Nations system agencies and intergovernmental organizations together to support governments reduce the burden of NCDs, including mental health conditions, to meet the goals and targets of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda.

We welcome the approach taken to establish this fund as a catalytic [instrument] to increase domestic resources.

Peace Masinde-Mutuma, Permanent Mission of Kenya to the UN in Geneva, WHO Member State briefing on the Health4Life Fund, April 2023

The Fund will support collaboration led by the Global South...and will focus overdue attention upon a major global health challenge. By promoting the leadership of the Global South, it will encourage solutions that are better adapted to those countries' health needs and priorities.

Humza Yousaf, First Minister Scotland, UN General Assembly, September 2023
