

Aisha Sabar

Deputy Executive Coordinator of the UN Multi-Partner Trust Fund Office

Aisha Sabar is the Deputy Executive Coordinator of the UN Multi-Partner Trust Fund Office (MPTFO).

With nearly 20 years of experience in international development and humanitarian sectors, Aisha has worked across the United Nations, the U.S. Government, and international NGOs. She specializes in resource mobilization, partnership development, and delivering impact in complex global contexts.

Before joining MPTFO, Aisha was a Senior Advisor and Team Lead at UNICEF, where she led major public sector partnerships and secured critical humanitarian and development funding for children worldwide. She previously spent a decade at the U.S. Department of State, holding senior roles in humanitarian affairs and foreign policy. Her work included advancing global policy initiatives at the U.S. Mission to the UN and overseeing multi-billion-dollar foreign aid budgets at the Bureau of South and Central Asia.

Earlier in her career, Aisha managed multisector programs in Pakistan with the International Organization for Migration (IOM) and implemented refugee resettlement and early childhood education programs with international NGOs.

Aisha holds an MBA from Columbia University and a BA in Arabic and International Relations from Washington University in St. Louis.
