

Sustaining peace and social cohesion in Bosnia and Herzegovina through enhanced inter-municipal and inter-entity cooperation on local services (SPSC Project)

INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECT INTERVENTIONS SUPPORTED BY UNDP

The implemented municipal interventions are rooted in a post-conflict context marked by ethnic division, socioeconomic hardship, and widespread gender-based violence. In underdeveloped and war-affected communities such as Bosansko Grahovo, Glamoč, and Bosanski Petrovac, the legacy of trauma, poverty, and marginalization continues to affect all ethnic groups.

These interventions, including the establishment of social welfare centers, safe housing for survivors of violence, and inclusive public services, are designed to promote social cohesion, foster trust in local institutions, and encourage reconciliation. By prioritizing support for vulnerable groups—such as women, returnees, ethnic minorities, and persons with disabilities—the projects foster inclusive community development and address the root causes of tension, while also strengthening local governance and service delivery. These efforts are essential for building peaceful and resilient communities.
