Although not formally designated as a Steering Committee or Project Board, the Municipality of Tripoli has a governing body that acts as the project's counterpart at the national level in Lebanon. This body includes the project focal point, municipal representatives, members of the Local Development Committee (LDC), and a citizen-representative group composed of civil society organizations (CSOs). The project team engages with this body to promote community ownership and ensure sustainable impact, with the first official meeting held on 10 July 2025 (see details below).

In addition, IOM, UNDP, and UNICEF established a unified "one project team" composed of technical staff from all three agencies, with sub-groups dedicated to visibility and monitoring and evaluation (M&E). This joint UN project team holds regular meetings, including face-to-face sessions, to coordinate on the workplan, stakeholder engagement, selection criteria, visibility and M&E strategies, among other activities.

During the reporting period, this project team has been jointly engaging with the government's steering committee for coordination, including introductory communications and formal agreements, as outlined below:
• On 10 July 2025, the Tripoli Mayor, the LDC President, and representatives from the three UN agencies officially launched the project. The Mayor confirmed the continuation of the plan approved by the former Mayor and appointed the LDC President as the official focal point for the project. A broader follow-up meeting was requested to present the full scope of project activities to committee and municipal board members.
• On 30 July 2025, the Municipality and UN agencies held a joint workshop with municipal members to introduce the project, present proposed target locations, and validate them with the LDC. Next steps for implementation were agreed upon during this session.
• On 17 September 2025, a meeting was held to plan an awareness event with government and community stakeholders to increase project visibility. Based on discussions and subsequent consultation with the Resident Coordinator Office (RCO), the event is planned for early 2026, once initial project results can be demonstrated.

Please provide a brief description of any engagement that the project has had with the government over the last 6 months. Please indicate what level of government the project has been engaging with. *

Please limit your response to 3000 characters

The Ministry of Interior approved the PBF-project and appointed the Municipality of Tripoli as the operational counterpart, in coordination with the Union of Municipalities and other relevant governmental stakeholders. During the reporting period, the project team has maintained consistent coordination with government counterparts at both the national and local levels, including the Municipality of Tripoli, the Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) Directorate at the Ministry of Education and Higher Education (MEHE), and other relevant entities. Key engagement activities are summarized below:

• At the local level, under Outputs 1.1 and 1.3, UNDP engaged municipal committees, NGO focal points, community activists, and Mukhtars through meetings in the targeted areas. These preparatory consultations aim to facilitate youth outreach for the upcoming campaign scheduled for the last quarter of 2025, ensuring alignment with local priorities and community needs.

• Under Output 1.2, the MEHE TVET Directorate has been an active partner in delivering certified vocational training to vulnerable youth. A coordination mechanism with the TVET Directorate General and the head of the TVET Non-Formal Education (NFE) department has been established, with both co-leading training activities alongside UNICEF in the designated schools.

• At the national and local levels, under Outcome 2, IOM engaged the Municipality of Tripoli in multiple meetings on diaspora engagement and co-funding mechanisms. The Municipality has shown strong interest in institutionalizing knowledge to sustain these mechanisms beyond the project's completion. Consequently, the Municipality is establishing a Diaspora Engagement Working Group, composed of municipal staff and diaspora representatives from key countries such as Canada and Australia, which will receive capacity-building support to ensure sustainable impact.

UNICEF partnered with the TVET Directorate of the MEHE to identify suitable TVET schools within the project's target areas. The Directorate will lead the vocational training delivery, while a partner organization (currently being selected) will implement complementary activities, including outreach, life skills and peacebuilding sessions, girls' leadership training, youth functional literacy and numeracy modules, as well as job placement support. The partner organization will implement these components while UNICEF will strengthen the institutional and technical capacity of the schools. By 2027, schools are expected to independently deliver the full training package, ensuring sustainability. IOM selected SHiFT, a local NGO with strong community expertise, through a transparent and competitive process to support diaspora engagement and co-funding initiatives. A financial induction session was held on 2 September 2025. UNDP is currently in the process of selecting an IP and this will be reflected in the next reporting cycle.

The project team has been largely staffed since inception. All three UN agencies have dedicated technical, finance, procurement, and communication personnel, including staff based in Tripoli. Recruitment for the M&E consultant is ongoing, with applications now closed and the process is expected to be finalized by the end of 2025.

Following a coordination meeting on M&E among the three UN agencies held on 2 September 2025, the agencies discussed certain M&E modalities, including engaging a consultancy or company and defining the details of the Terms of References (ToR), and agreed to hire an independent M&E consultant to develop the project's M&E strategy. Each agency will collect its respective baseline data, which will be consolidated into a comprehensive baseline report by early 2026.

The project team has initiated beneficiary identification using a community-led approach, with a strong focus on women and youth. Under Output 1.3, UNDP developed a youth outreach strategy targeting 120 participants for the Mechanisms for Stability and Local Development (MSLD) process and the Youth Leadership Programme (YLP). A recruitment campaign, including a call for applications, is underway. Under Output 1.2, UNICEF revised the vulnerability assessment tool to be rolled in the last quarter of 2025. Identification used multiple outreach methods (door-to-door visits, community gatherings, job fairs, social media) and a structured Kobo-based assessment capturing household and individual socio-economic and educational data. A five-point scoring system prioritizes youth most in need. Eligibility criteria include youth out of learning or employment, working minors, early-married girls, youth with disabilities, and those affected by gender-based violence (GBV) or conflict. Under Outcome 2, IOM developed an eligibility criteria for community-based planning (CBP) members. These criteria were developed based on 14 key informant interviews across 7 target communities. The selection process will be completed by the end of 2025, in collaboration with UNDP and UNICEF.

Describe overall progress under each Outcome made during the reporting period (for June reports: January-June; for November reports: January-December (anticipated); for final reports: full project duration). Do not list individual activities. If the project is starting to make/has made a difference at the outcome level, provide specific evidence for the progress (quantitative and qualitative) and explain how it impacts the broader political and peacebuilding context.

Under Output 1.1, UNDP is in the process of recruiting a consultancy firm to:
• Update the follow-up tension report based on the 2022/2023 study Tripoli Truths: Voices of Struggle and Despair, identifying recent tension drivers and root causes.
• Conduct a high-level impact evaluation of the project to assess its contribution to tension mitigation and reduction. The ToR are currently being finalized.
UNDP is also currently identifying a local IP to carry out the youth-focused MSLD process.

To ensure a smooth induction phase, UNDP is undertaking the following preparatory steps:
• Engaging with local actors, stakeholders and community activists in targeted areas to facilitate youth outreach once the campaign is launched in the last quarter of 2025.
• Conducting a desk review of existing reports and data to better understand the socio-economic and political dynamics of Tripoli, including the needs, priorities, and challenges faced by the local community, particularly youth.
• Mapping existing peacebuilding interventions, with a focus on youth-centered projects, to complement ongoing efforts, avoid duplication, and identify coordination opportunities.

Under Output 1.2, UNICEF identified seven TVET schools in the targeted locations. Coordination with the TVET Directorate is ongoing to present the project, secure their support and finalize the selection of participating schools.

Vulnerability assessment tools are under review. Once finalized, they will be shared with UNDP for the integration of relevant criteria and subsequently testing. Following this, outreach will begin to identify the youth beneficiaries for Year 1.

Consultations with employers and labour market representatives were completed to identify priority occupations. The consultations aimed to:
• Gather up-to-date labour market intelligence to inform the design of Competency Based Training (CBT) courses aligned with employer needs;
• Establish partnerships with private sector stakeholders to enhance job placement opportunities for trained youth;
• Identify key recruitment challenges across priority sectors; and
• Strengthen linkages between trained youth and employment opportunities across northern Lebanon

The key sectors identified as high demand include hospitality, construction, agriculture sewing/ tailoring and information technology.

The Girls' Leadership Package is being finalized, with the Training-of-Trainers scheduled and rollout planned by the end of 2025.

Under Output 1.3, UNDP developed a youth outreach strategy targeting 120 participants for both the MSL process and the YLP. A recruitment campaign, including a call for applications, will be launched in the last quarter of 2025 to identify and engage eligible youth.

Under Output 2.1, IOM selected SHiFT, a locally established NGO in Tripoli, as the IP, to support community committees in their fundraising efforts.

CBP activities are being prepared in collaboration with UNICEF (seven communities) and UNDP (three communities), with implementation scheduled for December 2025 for the UNICEF communities and the first quarter of 2026 for the UNDP communities.

From 22 to 26 September 2025, IOM and UNICEF conducted Key Informant Interviews (KIIs) with 14 participants (3 women and 11 men). Interviewees included community social activists, leaders of sports initiatives, and heads of local groups. The limited number of women participants reflects their reduced visibility in the current community context. Moving forward, IOM and UNICEF will continue engaging with communities and supplement these findings with additional consultations specifically with women in subsequent reporting periods. The KIIs also highlighted key community challenges, including high school dropout rates, youth unemployment, and competition over job opportunities.

Based on insights gathered through KIIs, IOM developed an inclusive selection criteria for CBP members and a matching grant ratio mechanism that defines the project's contribution relative to community-raised funds. The ratio, ranging from 1:1 to 1:2, is determined by a scoring system that prioritizes initiatives led by diverse community groups and those that promote peacebuilding, social inclusion, and inclusive participation. To ensure that interventions are grounded in local realities and do not inadvertently exacerbate existing tensions, IOM and UNICEF conducted 14 KIIs across the seven target communities to understand context-specific dynamics, power relations and community perceptions. These findings informed the CBP preparations and will continue to guide implementation through a conflict-sensitive lens.

Under Output 2.1, IOM participated in diaspora conferences and meetings to better understand the dynamics of Lebanon- and Tripoli-based diaspora communities. This included the International Lebanese Medical Association (ILMA) Conference 2025 on 26 July 2025, where IOM expanded networking with diaspora members and local stakeholders. At the conference, IOM met a Tripoli-based medical expert experienced in diaspora in-kind support, and subsequently held a follow-up meeting in Tripoli to map existing networks and collaboration between communities and diaspora groups. Based on this meeting and ongoing IOM's diaspora coordination efforts, IOM has updated its mapping of the diaspora groups. Coordination with these groups will begin in the next reporting period to identify their interests and needs and to introduce the project.

As part of its broader initiative to strengthen diaspora contributions to peacebuilding, recovery, and development efforts in Lebanon and beyond, IOM has recently intensified its diaspora engagement across its offices in Australia and Canada. Coordination has been established between these offices to plan joint outreach activities, aiming to reinforce a consolidated approach aligned with other IOM diaspora engagement initiatives. These efforts also support targeted outreach campaigns promoting the Co-Funding System (CFS) among diaspora communities. In addition, IOM has engaged with the Municipality of Tripoli to obtain contact information for diaspora groups connected to the city.

Under Output 2.3, activities under this Output will start following the completion of Output 2.1

Indicate any additional analysis on how Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment and/or Youth Inclusion and Responsiveness has been ensured by the project to date *

Please limit your response to 3000 characters

UNICEF's market and employer consultations were conducted applying a clear gender lens, ensuring that sectoral analysis captured women's and girl's participation, challenges, and opportunities. For instance, in the tailoring and sewing sector, around 95 per cent of the workforce is female, though retention decreases when girls marry, a challenge the programme aims to address through targeted support. In agriculture, women and girls remain highly engaged in agro-processing and food production roles. Programmes that included childcare support demonstrated higher retention rates among female participants, highlighting the importance of gender-sensitive support mechanisms to enable sustained participation.

Within the CFS design, IOM integrated gender considerations into the selection criteria and grant ratio structure. The KIIs conducted for community engagement highlighted challenges that limit women's participation in decision-making and community activities, including restricted access to socioeconomic opportunities and social norms that constraint their involvement. At the same time, most of KII respondents emphasized the importance of enhancing women's socioeconomic opportunities, indicating a readiness to support their active participation in community activities. Based on these findings, the CBP process will ensure equal gender representation to guarantee that community voices reflect the priorities and perspectives of both women and men.

UNDP's mapping exercise in Tripoli, aimed at identifying and analyzing existing peacebuilding interventions, placed strong emphasis on gender equality and youth inclusion. Women-led NGOs, female activists, and gender-focused organizations were systematically consulted to ensure that women's perspectives meaningfully informed the analysis. The exercise also documented and recognized existing women-led peacebuilding initiatives, highlighting their active roles in conflict prevention, social cohesion, and community resilience. In addition, key barriers to women's participation, such as restrictive social norms, mobility constraints, and limited access to decision-making spaces, were identified to guide future interventions that promote more equitable engagement.

Youth inclusion was equally prioritized throughout the mapping. The exercise documented numerous youth-driven peacebuilding initiatives, positioning young people as central agents of change in Tripoli. It also produced recommendations to strengthen youth participation, emphasizing coordination and complementarity with existing efforts to avoid duplication and maximize impact.

Human Impact

This section is about the human impact of the project. Please state key stakeholders (including but not limited to: Civil Society Organziations, Beneficiaries, etc.) of the project, and for each, please briefly describe:

i. The challenges/problem they faced prior to the project implemantation
ii. The impact of the project in their lives
iii. Provide, where possible, a quote or testimonial from a representative of each stakeholder group

This is an optional question. You may leave it unanswered if not relevant

Human Impact	Type of stakeholder	What has been the impact of the project on their lives?	Provide, where possible, a quote or testimonial from the stakeholder
1	Dr. Abdulhamid Karimeh, Mayor of Tripoli	By engaging and collaborating with the Municipality of Tripoli from the design phase through project implementation, the initiative has garnered strong support and active interest from municipal authorities. Their commitment is critical to ensure effective implementation and to create sustainable impacts within the city.	"This project may represent the first successful initiative under the newly elected municipal board. Discussions began two years ago, and we are now seeing tangible progress. The municipality is committed to supporting the initiative and connecting IOM with the Tripoli diaspora group. We will also ensure that all targeted groups benefit equally from this initiative."

2	Bilal Hussein, Head of the Development and International Relations Committee at Tripoli Municipality	The Development and International Relations Committee represents both civil society organizations and the broader population of Tripoli. The strong commitment of the project focal point within the committee is essential to ensuring that the interests of both the Municipality and local communities are reflected throughout project activities.	"The committee includes members from various local NGOs who understand the community's needs and challenges. We are leveraging their technical expertise and the municipality's resources to ensure the success of the PBF initiative."

The project team has positioned diaspora engagement as the central component of the project. While Lebanon has a long history of diaspora contributions through remittances and some technical support, engagement in the design and implementation of humanitarian and development programmes has been limited. By leveraging the interests, expertise and capacity of the diaspora to contribute to their home communities, this project provides an innovative and impactful model for inclusive community development in Lebanon.

IOM established a CFS, a mechanism that encourages communities to identify their own priorities and mobilize resources through local fundraising, in collaboration with the diaspora. The CFS provides a matching top-up to the amount raised by the community, thereby amplifying local contributions. By combining community resources with diaspora support, the CFS ensures sustainable, locally-owned, and impactful outcomes in community recovery, stabilization, and development.

The project team emphasizes a community-owned and community-led approach to achieve sustainable and impactful results, particularly in the context of sensitive conflict dynamics shaped by historical grievances, the war in the region, and the regime change in Syria. To operationalize this approach, IOM established an implementing partnership with SHiFT, a civil society organization. This partnership not only supports effective project implementation but also facilitates the transfer of knowledge and experience, strengthening local capacity for ongoing community-led development and stabilization efforts. The project team has established strong collaboration and coordination across UN agencies to support effective project implementation. This partnership extends beyond technical aspects, including shared knowledge from the Tension Monitoring Report, joint selection of target communities and beneficiaries, and coordinated engagement with stakeholders such as the Municipality of Tripoli and local community actors, to encompass joint M&E and visibility planning. In addition, the UN agencies maintain close coordination with UNSCOL to ensure that project activities contribute optimally to the broader UN mandate in Lebanon.

Tension Monitoring System

Has the project launched outcome level data collection initiatives? e.g. perception surveys *

Perception survey is a formal collection of information from a randomly selected sample of respondents through their responses to standardized questions. See PBF Guidance Note for more information link

UNDP uses the Tension Monitoring System findings to inform and adjust interventions in real time, ensuring that programming is both conflict-sensitive and contextually appropriate. By integrating perception data into project design and implementation, the survey strengthens evidence-based decision-making and supports the project's objectives to enhance social cohesion and mitigate conflict in target areas.

Has the project used or established community feedback mechanisms? *

Community feedback mechanism, or community-based monitoring, is an organized system for communities of participants to monitor the local effects and impact of an intervention. Ideally, this system empowers the community to express whether their expectations are being met and to provide suggestions to decision-makers for possible (re)focusing. See PBF Guidance Note for more information. link

The project team is implementing a community feedback mechanism to capture participants' perspectives and ensure that interventions remain responsive and effective. Feedback tools, including post-activity anonymous surveys and reflection forms following workshops, training sessions, and social activities, enable youth participants to provide input on the relevance, quality, and impact of activities. Collected insights are systematically integrated into ongoing planning to support adaptive programming, participant empowerment, and evidence-based decision-making. The project team also ensures that the complaints and feedback hotline is shared with implementing partners and all direct beneficiaries.

During the reporting period, IOM, UNDP and UNICEF prioritized in-depth initial consultations with the Municipality of Tripoli and target communities. Conducting these consultations in the initial months of the project helped establish a community-owned approach, which is crucial for achieving long-term and sustainable impacts.

The Municipality of Tripoli has demonstrated strong commitment to acquiring and institutionalizing the knowledge and experience generated through the project, particularly in the areas of diaspora engagement and the CFS. This will enable the Municipality to replicate and sustain the model independently after project completion. To support this, the Municipality is establishing a Diaspora Working Group, while the project team will provide capacity-building and knowledge-exchange sessions in upcoming phases. These efforts will ensure that both institutional and community-level mechanisms are embedded, fostering continued peacebuilding, collaboration, and socio-economic development.

Are there any other issues concerning project implementation that you want to share, including any capacity needs of the recipient organizations?
